Christopher Cook & Harold Hurst began manufacturing hosiery in 1908 under the name Cook & Hurst Ltd based in Leicester, creating the Admiral brand in 1914. The Trademark was then registered in 1922 after having supplied the Royal Navy with rugby shirts. The Admiral “rank” the logo of a Royal Navy Admiral.

Admiral continued as the official kit supplier to the England National team into the early 80’s. The team wore the now famous Admiral white home and red away strip in the 1982 World Cup Finals held in Spain.

The First Real Football Club Sponsorship, Admiral pioneered the replica kit market. Admiral signed a deal with League Champions Leeds United to make the first branded team kit and replica merchandise.

The England cricket team managed one of the biggest sporting conquests winning a thrilling Ashes series in 2005 after 18 years of hurt.

Admiral uses unique symbols to point our customers in the right direction. The symbols will remove much of the confusion around ball description that make it difficult to understand quality versus price. Overall, we created this rating system to simplify the process of choosing a ball that is right for you.

Training Balls Grade
- Produced in a large variety of materials.
- Price oriented for youth, camp, practice and recreational play.

- Used by coaches for all age groups and all standards.

Training balls are offered in a very large variety of qualities that range from lower priced balls for soccer camps, youth and recreational play right up to training balls for the top players in the game today. It is important to select the right quality for your level of play. A word of advice, price is not always the best way to determine quality. Available in sizes 3, 4 and 5.

Match Balls Grade
- Developed for top players.
- Approved for use at the highest levels of the game.
- Produced for pure performance to exacting specifications for the greatest accuracy, speed and control.

The best quality outdoor balls will meet and exceed all minimum technical specifications and standards for the absolute highest levels of match play. Match balls are the most expensive type of ball since they are produced from the best materials and adhere to strict design and testing parameters. Available in size 4 & 5 depending on your level of play.

Street Balls Grade
- A more recognized form of indoor soccer today.
- Specially engineered for indoor and hard flat surfaces.
- Freestyle balls are produced with materials that allow for survival on hard surfaces.

Proper street balls are made from durable materials to withstand the demands of playing on gravel or concrete. They materials are often designed to help keep the ‘street artist’ maintain close control of the ball. Many suppliers claim to produce actual street balls but they are usually no more than normal soccer balls. Available in size 5 only.

Futsal Balls Grade
- A more recognized form of indoor soccer today.
- Specially engineered for indoor and hard flat surfaces.
- Futsal balls are produced with materials that allow for survival on hard surfaces.
- A more recognized form of indoor soccer today.

Futsal is a format of five-a-side football that is played extensively throughout the world. The term ‘Futsal’ is an abbreviation of the Portuguese ‘futebol de salão’ or the Spanish ‘futbol sala’, both of which translated literally mean ‘indoor football’. It is played on a pitch approximately the size of a basketball or netball court with a ball which is smaller and heavier than the outdoor football and has a reduced bounce. This ball forces a player to use their skill rather than the ball’s bounce to propel it. As a small sided game, players are constantly placed in situations where they must receive or play whilst under pressure or in confined spaces. Available in junior & senior sizes.

ADMIRAL® TECHNICAL INFORMATION

A perfect ball for every occasion will always remain the utmost importance to ADMIRAL. Arguably the ball is the most important piece of equipment in the game and vital for precision practices. Why is ADMIRAL better? Simply put, its construction and materials are superbly engineered to provide high quality products suitable for every occasion. Every component contributes towards a ball’s touch and flight characteristics, quality and specific use.

THE COVER.... Or the outside of the ball provides protection from the elements such as hard ground, moisture, cold weather and the hot sun without compromising the touch and performance. Our soft covers are made from the highest quality materials available, both imported and local. Compare the touch...its the difference.

THE BACKING.... Never seen but a crucial factor in the performance and endurance of a ball. Admiral use soft TPE as backing on most of our covers while others use EVA which is a substandard backing. TPE is softer and more durable than EVA especially in wet and/or cold conditions. It is a superior backing.

THE BLADDER.... As well as hold air, the bladder is highly responsible for the touch, feel, performance and flight of all soccer balls. Latex bladders have traditionally been used in the past and still meet a player’s ideal requirements but have issues with air retention. However, recent developments have given us the ability to protect our bladders with nylon without compromising touch and feel. 100% of our bladders are nylon wound which insures the best air retention and guarantees maximum shape during play. These bladders hold air for approximately twice as long as conventional latex bladders without affecting playability at all. By contrast, many of our competitors do not use wound bladders causing issues on the field with performance and shape. Our match balls use blended bladders to provide a soft touch while ensuring proper flight. The valve stem is a critical element of construction and in most cases, all is lost as a result of a defective valve stem. Admiral use the highest quality imported valve stem available which are engineered to reduce air loss and retard decay.

TECHNICAL DATA....The specifications for weight, circumference and recommended pressures are governed by FIFA. All ADMIRAL® balls comply with these specifications, details of which are listed below along with tolerances.

QUALITY COMES FROM INSIDE

THERMO BONDING- The highest quality International Match balls are thermally bonded. The PU panels are bonded one by one to the bladder with heat and pressure and so there are no seams and no stitches. This means less water uptake and a higher performance for the best players.

HIGH FREQUENCY BONDING- Suitable for Match play, this technique of bonding is similar to Thermo Bonding but instead of bonding single panels together, they bond 6 – 8 panels at a time. This ball also offers a high quality playing experience than machine stitched balls.

MACHINE STITCHED- Machine stitched balls are used for training or youth match play. Machine stitching offers a flatter flight than is older counterpart i.e. hand stitched balls. When a ball is hand stitched, the exact same pressure is not put on each seam meaning that it is not a spherical as the newer method of machine stitching. Because machine-stitched balls cover has to be soft for the needle to penetrate the outer cover, the material is also much softer to the touch than training balls that are hand stitched.

Follow these simple do’s and don’ts to make sure you’re treating your new soccer ball with the respect it deserves. Used properly and depending upon it’s quality, your soccer ball could last years. However, used improperly, it may not last a season. Don’t let the latter happen to you through neglect and abuse. Here are a few do’s and don’ts of soccer ball care that will help maximize the lifespan of your ball.

DO: CLEAN
After the first use or two, your ball will likely never look pristine again. However, keeping it clean and free of major dirt will prolong the life and playability of the ball. Use a damp cloth to wipe down the surface and remove any excess dirt, residue or grime after every use and you’ll never have to resort to playing dirty. Do not use excessive water when cleaning as the ball may absorb some of the water.

DO: DEFLATE WHEN NOT USING
Instead of playing with an inflated ball, deflate the ball. Use the same needle you use to inflate it (don’t forget the minimal oil) and just let the pressure off. You don’t have to squeeze the ball just let the air release naturally as the shell and bladder can not serve you even using it.

DO: INFLATE TO CORRECT PRESSURE
For the ball to react the way it’s supposed to in flight, it must be inflated to the proper pressure. That means neither over- nor under-inflated. Please refer to the pressure printed on the valve stem, use a pressure gauge and inflate or deflate accordingly. However, before inserting any needle into the ball, it is best to coat both the needle and the rubber valve with a light spray of valve oil on the needle to avoid damaging the air valve. Saliva is not recommended as a lubricant.

DO: BE MINDFUL OF THE PLAYING SURFACE
Soccer balls are designed to take a lot of abuse. Some cosmetic damage will unavoidably occur, but playing on rough, abrasive surfaces like concrete, gravel, asphalt, and even some indoor surfaces can damage your ball. Therefore, our recommendation is that you only use the ball on surfaces for which it is designed. Make sure you buy a soccer ball that matches the game you’ll be playing. If you are unsure, ask us.

DON’T: SIT OR STAND ON THE BALL
Standing on a ball – any ball – is not smart. Don’t stand on your ball. Standing on a soccer ball will likely damage its structure to an extent that it warps into a permanently oblong configuration rendering it inadequate for play. Sitting on the ball can do the same thing, so no sitting on the ball during breaks, either.

DON’T: INFLATE AT A GAS STATION
If you have many balls to inflate, invest in a proper electric pump. It is IMPOSSIBLE to regulate air pressure with the air pressure machines at gas stations! The pressure damages ball almost 100% of the time by stretching the seams through over inflating the bladder. Just don’t do it.
